Public video: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oqLfHiy_xAY

Jury video: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oqLfHiy_xAY

Setup dimensions:

85w x 80h x 45d in. flat tv screen in the middle with three clocks mounted to the walls on either side. clocks can also be mounted onto sturdy tripods

What makes it alternative/a unique experience:

In KOO-KOO you control a flock of mechanical birds with the mechanism of a cuckoo clock. The birds all move in their own tempo, which encourages the player to jump from clock to clock to give new commands. The interaction contains visceral pulling on weights and finely setting the hands of the clock. The gears inside the mechanism resist pulling and rattle along with the movement of the birds. All in all this creates a frantic multiplayer game where you are never really in control.
